Interesting.—The announcement made in another column by Mr. Jos. Brown is just what the people are on the lookout for at this season. PICNIC.—We learn that the singing classes of "Cousin" Mattie Boyd-one. in the Maybinton settlement and the other at Mt. Pleasant, have combined for the purpose of having a pleasant picnic at the last mentioned place. That it will be a nice affair there is no doubt. An indefatigable and exceedingly popular teacher of vocal music is "Cousin" Mattie, and we thank her for an invitation to attend.

SALE OF SEED COTTON.-In His Honor's charge to the Grand Jury on Monday, the nefarious traffic in seed cotton between sunset and sunrise was alluded to, and their attention called to the fact that a law was passed during the last Legislature which makes the purchaser and seller equally iable. TOM KEITT AS A BIGAMIST .- A bright and shining light has come incontinently to grief. Tom Keitt, colored Member of the House of Representatives and Keeper of the Poor House in this County, was arrested Friday and carried before Trial Justice Carlisle on a charge of Bigamy. The affidavit upon which the arrest was ordered was made by W. P. Harris, and charges that in 1870 or '71 Keitt was married to a woman named Alice Greenwood, having a wife living at the time. The Trial Justice bound Tom over for trial at the Sessions Court, fixing the bail at $500. He spent Friday night in jail, but Satarday morning Col. E. S. Keitt, his former master, became bail for him, and he was released.

ANOTHER MAD DOG .- A mad dog made its appearance at Mr. Thomas Adams' place, near Ashford's Ferry, on Tuesday last. After biting two or more dogs in that neighborhood it made its way on down to J. A. Caldwell's—in the Black Jack settlement-biting all other dogs in its way. Mr. C. followed it to Beth Eden, and there learned it had bitten one of Mr. Geo. A. Sligh's dogs, and escaping reached Ivy Suber's place, where fortunately it was killed on Thursday. How many dogs were inocculated by its poisonous fangs in the three days intervening between its appearance and killing it is fearful to contemplate, and we cannot too strongly urge the necessity of killing every dog either known or suspected of being bitten. the Court of Sessions. The railroad Chairman, and Thos. S. Moorman, Esq. were made by Messrs. E. S. Keitt, J. F. J. Caldwell, G. G. DeWalt, Y. J. Pope and others. On motion of Col. Keitt the following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That a committee of five of this meeting, to ascertain the most establishing a new route, or of effecting a connection with an already established line of railroad, (or some line that may be established in a reasonable length of time) for the relief and improvement of this County, and that said Committee report to a meeting of the citizens of the County to be held on Saleday in October. The following committee was appointed: E. S. Keitt, J. N. Martin, R. C. Carlisle, J. F. J.

The meeting then adjourned to the first Monday in October, and delegations from Laurens, Chester, Augusta, Spartanburg and Union were, by resolution, cordially invited to attend.

Judge Mackey arrived on the up-train, and opened court at 4 P. M. The cleanly ppearance of the court room, the incharacter of the spectators in attendance were all in marked contrast to anything that Newberry has witnessed before for many years. Justice has become respectable again, and the people rejoice that a drunken solicitor and ignorant and packed juries no longer pollute her temples. In remarking on this contrast, we wish it understood that no reflections this circuit, the Honorable L. C. Northrop. WILLIAMSTON, S. C., August 30, '77. There is a divinity which shapes our ends rough, and one is not compelled to live till one dies to find it out. We found the 'rough end' on Monday last in the abrupt termination of our pleasant sojourn at Glenn Springs, and in parting with the "happy family" of charming matrons, sweet maidens and entertaining gentlemen there assembled. persons be appointed by the Chairman | The simple parting might have been borne with equanimity, but we had conjured the economical and practicable means of idea that there would have been a scene with any quantity of tears; like the baseless fabric of a dream, however, it collapsed The ladies did not turn out worth a centlike the guests invited to the marriage feast they all made excuse, except a couple of little dears who stood at the front and faced the music. There was only, therefore, a limited and gentle good-bye as in a cloud of dust our crazy buggy rolled off for the twelve mile jaunt to Spartanburg. With a trunk in front-the place usually occupied by legs-and a young fifteenth amendment by our side, the bitter cud was chewed into infinitessimal particles until a change came over the spirit of the dream by a right wheel, double quick of the horse, which became frightened at a train of cars. Snugly jammed in a fence corner the happy telligent faces of the jurors and the discovery was made that "nobody was hurt" except the buggy, which is now undergoing an extensive 'keying up' as railroad men would call it. The divinity which shapes things managed very well in this case, and we are thankful. MEMORIAL.

On the 31st day of May, 1876, little MARY WITHERSPOON was given, as a daughter, to J. Clarke Wardlaw and Elizabeth T. Moorman, who were married on the 20th day of May, 1875. The sweet mother of the baby died on the 27th day of June, 1877. The baby, "Masie" as they called her, lived to be a little joy; but then she died on the 29th day of August, 1877, very cheerfully, to join her mother, and seemed to say as she died: Mama says you all must come.

SALE-DAY-RAIL ROAD MEET-

Newberry was crowded Monday. The only sales were of some personal property-under execution. The occasions that called so many people together were the mass meeting in the interest of a new railroad, and the opening of meeting was called at 12 o'clock, and the Court House was filled with citizens from every portion of the County, who manifested a deep interest in the subject. George Johnstone, Esq., was chosen Secretary. The Chairman explained the object of the meeting. Speeches

There are quite a number of visitors here in quest of health and pleasure, and we know of no more delightful place. The Mineral Spring is charmingly situated in a beautiful grove, and one does not grow tired in going to it, nor get scorched by the sun, for there are no hills to climb and a refreshing shade is all around; and then mine host Deal deals such a bountiful supply of creature comforts that no matter how great the appetite or how fastidious the taste, there is no room for a shadow of complaint. The faces at his table are pleas ant to look at-round and rosy.
